

But stressing about old age isn't nearly enough, also think of those disasters and troubles ahead. You might lose your life or your job later, maybe you'll stand on a lego brick later.

Maybe one day a dictator will come to power and you get caught for what they think you thought because you once googled someone you knew who now turns out to belong to a terrorist gang.

