The meaning of life?
That you keep growing, rustles the tree.
The fungus on its trunk agreed.
